Workmen are erecting a new flagpole over the main entrance at Spaulding high school. Saturday a scaffolding was erected on the gable of the building to facilitate the work of getting the pole in position. It is possible that the stars and stripes and the school service flag may be unfurled from the pole.

Dismantling of the Cottage, for nearly two years one of the most picturesque rendezvous for drinking men in Barre, began this morning when plumbers disconnected pipes that have been arid ever since the license was revoked last December. The bar is to be moved into the establishment at 4. Merchant street, where Joseph Comoli expects to locate his first-class license.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cave, who have been passing the winter in Florida, arrived in the city early this morning and left this forenoon for their home in Orange. Mr. and Mrs. Cave wintered near the southern end of the peninsula, where Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cave, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nichols, Edward Sampson and other Barre people have established claims.

Huge clouds of dust obscured lower Washington street from view Saturday and until mid-afternoon Sunday pedestrians had to grope their way through the pall in order to reach the level or the height they happened to be seeking. Sometime yesterday the nuisance was partially abated by the appearance of the street sprinkler, which also relieved dusty conditions on North Main and South Main streets.

Elderly alumni of the old Barre academy will regret to learn of the passing of Dr. William Henry Harrison Varney, a well known practicing physician in Charlotte, whose death occurred a few days ago. Dr. Varney had engaged in his profession for fifty-five years, and was well known throughout the state. He obtained his secondary education in Barre academy and later matriculated in the Berkshire Medical college, Pittsfield, Mass.

The following item, clipped from the New Haven items in the Middlebury Register, will be of interest in Barre, the home of Miss Edith Barnes, who is a member of the faculty in the New Haven schools. "The morning service at the Congregational church last Sunday morning was unusual and especially interesting. It was conducted entirely by the ladies and girls of the parish, the pastor sitting with the congregation. The sermon was delivered by Miss Edith Barnes."

Three respondents answered to Magistrate H. W. Scott in municipal court this morning for indiscretions committed through the week end. Vernon E. Crosssett of Waterbury, arraigned on an intoxication charge, acknowledged a first offense and settled for $5 and costs. John Connor of Westerville, who was locked up on an intoxication charge, stepped into the habitual class when the third offense was acknowledged by him. He paid $15 and costs. Charles Kelly of Graniteville, listed as an old offender, admitted a subsequent offense, and expects to pay a fine of $15 with costs.

Sunday sales in drug stores, fruit stands, cigar stores and the small stores that dot the landscape on other than North and South Main streets were curbed yesterday as the result of an order issued by State's Attorney Earle R. Davis Saturday night. The new business hours are from 8 till 9 a. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m., and the state's attorney has intimated that failure to observe the new schedule may lead to direful consequences. Only shoe shining stands and newspaper stores are exempt from the new order, and a limitation is placed on the variety of merchandise they serve to their customers. The order was something of a surprise to the storekeepers. Even the police did not have time to notify all dealers Saturday night, and the remnant of the job had to be done Sunday morning.

Unless the state's standing offer of a doe is matched by the subscription of enough money to guarantee the beginning of a public deer park in Barre, the offer will be withdrawn May 10, according to County Game Warden E. S. Newcomb, who was here Saturday to confer with Deputy Game Wardens J. F. Counts and Charles Keith. The county warden and the deputies visited the doe which has been in captivity at the Cutler livery since its capture in the streets of Barre early in March, and then decided that the animal should be liberated if the movement for a public deer park is to die a natural death. The state has a substantial offer from a Massachusetts city if Barre does not take the doe, but the game wardens apparently prefer to give the stranger its liberty instead of shipping it to the Bay state. Game Warden Newcomb complimented the livery men on the excellent care given the doe.

All-Wool Means Lasting Style

Do you realize what "all-wool" means to a garment? It is the only thing that makes fine tailoring worth while; garments of poor material, however well-made, will not hold their shape. They soon go to pieces in looks and in reality, and customers, of course, are highly dissatisfied.

In view of such conditions we are gratified to be able to recommend unreservedly the quality of our Coats, Suits, and Skirts. They are absolutely all-wool, and more than ordinary workmanship put into every detail. See these values while the line is complete.

ON THE GREENS EARLY.

Barre Golf Club Players Set New Early Season Record.

There were quite a few members on the course at the Barre Golf club on Saturday afternoon, taking the advantage of the fine weather, and those players had the pleasure of playing on the greens, as the committee decided they were ready for use. Never before in the history of this club have the greens been ready for playing on at such an early date. However, the reason they are in shape so early is in no little measure due to the good work the greens keeper, James K. Anderson, has put in, for he has taken a great interest in the work and has also made some new 'tees, which were badly needed for some of the holes. However, along with the good work done, some of the credit goes to this season's greens committee, for it has done a lot of work. So also did quite a few of the members, who willingly answered the call for help, which the committee asked for.

Now that the greens are opened, more players will be on the course every day, and the weekly tournament will be started at an early date. So also will a round robin tournament be started. The mixed foursome tournament will also be started very soon and it is hoped that all members who can see their way clear will take part in these competitions, as they are very interesting.

Goodness alone will recommend a second glass of our Soda. Just the nicest products; more cleverly devised and combined and more pleasingly served and with greater care in production this year because of the necessity for sugar conservation. This means the "just right" flavor and nothing careless that makes a sticky, over-sweet drink. You will just love our delicious Soda the moment you try it. We hope that trial will come at once.
